You are invited to exhibit at the largest gathering of cardiovascular and allied healthcare professionals in Canada...

Dear Industry Partners,

The Canadian Cardiovascular Society (CCS) and the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Canada (HSFC) invite you to participate in the Canadian Cardiovascular Congress

2009 (CCC 2009) exhibition, which includes the 62nd Annual Scientific Meeting of the Canadian Cardiovascular Society, to be held in Edmonton, Alberta, October 24 to 28.

Exhibiting in the Community Forum provides a unique opportunity to maximize corporate visibility, network, educate, and introduce state-of-the-art products / services at the premier showcase of cardiovascular science in Canada.

Community Forum

95% of delegates visited the exhibits in the Community Forum!

The Community Forum is truly more than a place to visit exhibits – it is a place where colleagues network, learn about the advances in cardiovascular pharmacology, science, instruments and devices and attend leading-edge educational sessions.

Based on recommendations tabled from the Congress evaluations, CCS is pleased to announce that the following enhancements will be continued or introduced for CCC 2009 in Edmonton:

- “Extending” the CCC experience beyond the Congress
- Continued improvements to enhance the overall Satellite Symposia experience
- Community Cardiologist pilot program to kick-off on Saturday, October 24
- Delegate Passport Program
- Two Highlighted Poster Theatres in the Community Forum
- Additional seating and networking areas in the Community Forum
- Daily video streaming of Congress highlights on the exhibit floor
- Internet access areas on the exhibit floor

CCS recognizes that the CCC is the premiere annual event for Canada’s cardiovascular physicians and community and is committed to ongoing growth in attendee and stakeholder satisfaction. The CCS looks forward to working with you over the year ahead to deliver a world class event to those concerned with cardiovascular health and care in Canada.

Why should you exhibit?

Over 3,300 cardiovascular health professionals from across Canada are expected to attend the CCC 2009 in Edmonton.

The CCC has become the premiere annual cardiovascular learning event in Canada and the ‘must attend’ meeting for cardiovascular specialists and allied health professionals.

According to survey results from CCC 2008 delegates attend CCC to stay current, network, present research and to view new products.

Delegates include the following: cardiologists, cardiac surgeons; anesthetists and researchers; nurses; technicians and technologists; perfusionists; rehabilitation specialists including dietitians and exercise specialists; students and trainees, and many other members of the cardiovascular healthcare team.

Don't miss your chance to be part of this premiere scientific Congress and Exhibition!

Scientific Program

The CCS collaborates with the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Canada, more than one dozen affiliate health organizations and industry partners to deliver strong Congress programming year after year.

The Scientific Program delivers high-quality science and education through plenary sessions, lively debates, simultaneous oral sessions, clinical trial updates, poster presentations, interactive workshops, policy sessions, informal "Meet-the-Expert" sessions and more.

In 2009, Dr. Rob Beanlands serves as Chair of the CCS Scientific Program Committee, which develops the scientific program, with input from many of Canada's renowned cardiovascular specialists.

In recent years, a number of new features were introduced at the Congress, including a CCS Core Curriculum developed for community cardiologists, trainees and others seeking comprehensive updates. In addition, Learning Tracks were added by area of specialty which were available through plenary sessions, workshops, meet-the-experts sessions, oral and poster sessions.

As a service to the community, CCS will be piloting a Community Cardiologist program at CCC 2009. Expect to see our Canadian Community Cardiologists joining us from 7:00 to 12:00 on Saturday for this new and exciting program initiative.

The objectives of the Canadian Cardiovascular Congress are to:

- Provide a high quality scientific and educational experience for the delegates;
- Disseminate information derived from Canadian cardiovascular research (basic, clinical, health services and population research);
- Stimulate collaborative clinical and research initiatives;
- Provide core learning opportunities for cardiovascular professionals;
- Showcase and publicize the accomplishments of Canadian cardiovascular researchers, thereby identifying the importance of ongoing support for cardiovascular research in Canada, and
- Foster discussions and debates that lead to cardiovascular health and care innovations.

The Congress is a forum to showcase Canada's best research and promote learning through scientific sessions, interactive workshops, late-breaking and featured clinical trials and lively debates. The Congress is a place for active discussions on key issues with colleagues from across the country.
